

Crosby Leisure Centre

The UK's First PFI Funded Leisure Centre

JLA were the Architects and Designers for the first ever PFI Leisure Centre to built inside of the UK. JLA were part of the successful consortium, and became an integral part of the overall project.

The design was established from passive design and sustainable principles which took full consideration of the local environment, and the surrounding sea side coastal setting.

JLA liaised with Sport England throughout to develop a modern and compliant facility that was compliant to all relevant and applicable sport codes, allowing Crosby to advertise their facilities way beyond the local boundaries.

JLA were awarded a second prize in the national building standards award post development.
